CONTRACTORS TO CARELESSNESS.—We stated yesterday that there had not been a single case of contagion, disease reported this year within the limits of South Carolina. For this exemption we should be profoundly grateful. During the past week we have learned from the Journal of August 30, there were in New York sixty cases of contagious diseases, of which eight were fatal—three cholera; one variola; six diphtheria; eleven typhoid and five typhus (both here named conglutinæ); twelve scurria, and twenty-one meso-sis.

THE GEORGIA LOTTERY.—This lottery was manufactured for benevolent purposes, and has been conducted in a satisfactory manner by the proprietors. It has been a favorite with the public, and the rapid sales of tickets is a conclusive proof of its success. The schemes have been arranged for the benefit of all parties wishing to invest, and those who have sought to repatriate their fortune by this means, are satisfied that their loss or gain is not the result of any collision between the parties and agents. The sum $100 may have recently prepared a great extra scheme with a capital prize of $20,000, to be drawn at Atlanta, on the 4th. It is too late to make an investment at present, but similar schemes will be soon presented to the public, and we advise all who wish to try their luck, to invest $1, and they can prove the truth of the old saying that "fortune is blind." The office in this city is under the superintendence of Mr. JAMES KELLY, who can be found at the Elmore Insurance Building, in Broad street.

SACRIFICE OR ICE IN SAVANNAH.—Our sister city of Savannah is now under a cloud of affliction. The day days are upon her, and the stock of ice is exhausted. From early morn till dewy eve anxious eyes are scanning the horizon to see if there is any ice vessel below. The Savannah steamers are peculiarly mournful over this dearth of ice, and they write in lugubrious strain about their hapless lot. The local dream of Greenland's icy mountains, and sigh for the days of cool drinks, for juleps and cold beers are with them now but things of the past, as they are condemned to take their hot, and are in a truly deplorable condition. Ice is no longer a luxury but a necessity, and our Savanna brethren have our heartfelt sympathy in their present distress. The New and Herald offers some consolation to its readers in the announcement that a schooner was coming up, which was probably freighted with the precious cargo. We trust it is not misplaced, and the schooner will be but the vanguard of other vessels which have been detained by contrary winds.

PROJECTED Railroads.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

We are a very peculiar people in Charleston; at regular intervals we have spasmodic hopes about the future, & greatness of the city, to be brought about by building a few miles of railroad, and these hopes are never realized. We remember, when the "Mem. Phil." and the "Nashville" Roads were under construction, how we warmed up and spasmodically paid, down a cool million in gold to buy them through, and how very slowly we felt them to be built; enclosures, nights, burning tares and dry goods, shoes, &c.
